THE CONNELLVILLE
COKE REGION TAKES ITS WESTWARD WAY*First Important Development in Greene County
Field Announced.*POLAND COKE PLANT BUILDING*Works Will Be Located on Old Maple
Farm and Branch Railroad Will Be Built Up Creek From Monongahela Railroad.

The development of the Greene county coke field is at hand. It comes promptly with the establishment of railroad facilities. The extension of the Monongahela railroad south to the State line to connect with the Buckhannon and Northern is the signal for beginning work on the first extensive coke plant in the new field, and there is reason to believe that others will follow rapidly.

The Poland Coal Company, which recently purchased from J. V. Thompson, who practically controls this field, 1,100 acres on Union creek, plans the immediate development of its property. To that end it has just purchased some 70 acres of coal and surface on the old Maple farm, where it will locate the new plant and upon the coal. A branch railroad will be built up Dunkard creek a short distance to the proposed plant. The location was selected because of the dip of the coal. The initial coke plant will consist of 150 acres of the rectangular type. The plans are about completed and bids will be received soon. The company hopes to have an operating proposition in full swing by the coming summer.

It is announced the Buckhannon and Northern connection will be ready by January 1 next, and the Poland company's railroad extension will be established perhaps sooner. The completion of the Monongahela railroad along the eastern border of Greene county will afford owners of Greene, Maury and Union townships a direct route for mining, coke and shipping purposes.

The Poland company paid $300 per acre for their Dunkard creek holdings. The land is seven feet thick and of tried coke quality. It lies in Monongahela township. Julian W. Kennedy, the famous Pittsburgh blast furnace builder, mining engineer and metallurgical authority, is at the head of the Poland company. Associated with him are several Pittsburgh steel men and capitalists.

In an interview to the United Press just before signing, he said: "It is in no spirit of defiance that we take this pledge; but in the determination, with God's help, to keep what we have and defend the most wicked conspiracy against the rights of liberty that ever threatened a free, blameless, God-fearing people."

Hundreds of extra policemen are on duty with ball cartridges and sharpened bayonets, in readiness to be called out at a moment's notice in event of serious trouble.

Minor details connected with the opening of the new station were completed today, under the direction of Division Engineer J. L. Palmer, of the Western Maryland, who was here yesterday afternoon en route East. He said it would require about a month to complete the engineering work on the new Connellville division. Upon completion, he probably will be transferred to other construction work. He was engineer in charge of the construction of the local division.

Filing of $1,000 Bond.

Judge Uebel, at Uniontown, yesterday refused to continue the preliminary injunction granted Mrs. Nancy Morris and restraining the Uniontown Radial Street Railway Company, subsidiary of the West Penn, from continuing its extension through the John Kears farm in North Union township. Mrs. Morris claimed a dower interest in the farm.

The court ruled that, with the filing of a bond of $1,000 by the West Penn, the company could proceed with the extension.

The court held that the railway company can exercise the right of eminent domain by filing a bond sufficient to cover the value of the property as fixed by viewers.

The reports showed the campaign was a success, its purpose was to quicken all departments of the church to increased activity and greater efficiency, and the objects were as follows: 25 new church members, 25 new Sunday school scholars, 25 per cent. increase in average attendance at Sunday school, 25 new members of the home department, 25 in attendance at the B. The success of the campaign, it is said, was due to the earnest co-operation of members of the congregation. As the result of the campaign the church membership has been increased, and all departments greatly strengthened.

WESTERN MARYLAND MAY CONNECT WITH BIG COAL PROPERTY*25,000 Acres Being Option-ed in the Upper Ligonier
Valley, Partly in the*UPPER CONNELLVILLE REGION*Could be Reached by Line Up Indian Creek and Down Loyalhanna,
Thence to Field and Connection With B. R. & P.

Twelve thousand acres of coal land in Ligonier and Cook townships, Westmoreland county, and the southeastern portion of Indiana county along the Conemaugh river, are said to be under option by Eastern capitalists, who expect to increase their options to cover 25,000 acres before closing the deal and making preparations for development.

An interesting feature of the story reported here today is the statement that the Western Maryland railroad contemplates connecting with this development and establishing another link with the New York Central system. The course of their connection would be from Indian Creek up the Indian creek valley, either by lease or purchase of the Indian Creek Valley railroad, or by constructing a parallel line; thence across the divide to the headwaters of the Loyalhanna creek, thence down the stream to Ligonier, with the possible acquisition of the Pittsburgh, Westmoreland and Somerset railroad, which would give the Western Maryland entrance into a portion of the Western Somerset county coal field now under active operation; thence from Ligonier northward by Bolivar and Packerfield into Indiana county connecting with the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad which is a traffic-agreement feeder of the New York Central line. While the statements lack confirmation and are given for what they are worth, it is well known the Western Maryland built into Western Pennsylvania with the definite vision of the State. The portion of its coal and possibly its coke traffic. The coal story is given on the authority of the Johnstown Tribune, which gives the following details concerning the project:

"The coal land optioned adjoins that of the Cambria Steel Co. on the west and extends to Mechanicsburg and Cook in Westmoreland county. The deal takes in a large part of the Packerfield and extends beyond New Florence, Lockport and Bolivar, nearly to Blairsville. It is expected that the sale of the land when the deal is consummated will be the largest ever made in this section of the State. The location of the coal land is ideal for mining purposes and could be used easily for the extension of the Cambria Steel Company's mines. An heretofore undeveloped section of Westmoreland and Indiana counties is involved in the options.

"For the last year several diamond drill cores have been making thorough tests of the land, and the fact that much work remains to be done in the testing of the field shows the immensity of the tract already under option. It is understood from semi-official sources that the deal is well underlain with deep seams of excellent coal. The entire section is the object of much speculation and a number of companies are striving to get openings there. The crews testing the field were employed throughout last winter and have been active all summer. Agents testing the land have been busy through the entire section. The field extends back several miles from the Conemaugh river and the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"Owing to the fact that Alexander F. Robinson is known to be interested in the deal and because he is interested in the Cambria Steel Co. deal, it is the general opinion that the plan is for the purpose of extending the holdings of that company. The deal is causing an unexpected boom in that section of the two counties.

"A large part of the tract is covered with an excellent growth of timber and this will shortly be developed. At a number of places at the present time is considerable activity in the marketing of the lumber."

GARY SEES EUROPE ADVANCE

Chairman Steel Corporation Cites Old World as Example.
Robert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, upon his return from an extended vacation in Europe, said of conditions in Europe that they had never been so prosperous as at present, so far as he could observe. He was not speaking of the political or ecological, but of conditions in the industrial world. He said the people in Europe lived better and spent more money than formerly and that the standard of living had been raised.

About 15 years ago, said Judge Gary, "women did most of the agricultural work in Europe and even were used in the fields for plowing. Today one sees more men than women at work and horses have replaced the oxen. There are many changes in the manner in which European nations conduct their general affairs that we might copy with profit." He explained that the municipalities were much better regulated and governed, that the laws were observed, and respected, and that the highways were excellent. America, he said had enormous resources for greater than the countries of Europe, but might well take a lesson from the nations of the Old World in regard to such matters.

CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, HEADACHY, LIVER TORPID?--CASCARETS SURE

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight with Cascarets. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets sweeten and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas, take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poison from the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel buoyant and cheerful for months. Don't forget the children.

10 Cents. Never gripe or sicken.

Anty Drudge on Marriage

Miss Dolly Dainty—"I certainly do love James—but he's far too poor for us to get married. I'm not strong enough to do the family washing myself, and we cannot afford a girl."

'Anty Drudge—"Get married right away if that's all that stops you. You're plenty strong enough to wash clothes the Fels-Naptha way. Fels-Naptha Soap is easy on the woman; easy on the clothes."

Easy on the woman; easy on the clothes! That, in a nutshell, is the Fels-Naptha way of washing.

Fels-Naptha Soap does away with all the hard and disagreeable part of washing clothes. Little rubbing, no steaming suds to bend over, no keeping up fire to boil the clothes, no nauseous odor from cooking soiled garments.

Then, clothes last longer with no boiling to weaken their fiber and no hard rubbing to wear them thin.

Look for the red and green wrapper.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP!

General prosperity is in command of the industrial situation and the only serious drawback to his triumphant campaign is the continued scarcity of labor. There are more jobs than men. Labor is not seeking employment; employment is chasing labor. The workman is waiting up and down the country hunting work, but employment agents are pushing each other off the docks in an effort to embrace every European immigrant who lands in this country.

In the Connelville region the merchant operators are no longer able to supply the demand for coke. They have not reached the limit of their plant capacity, but they are unable to get enough men to man the mines and even. They are producing a bare 150,000 tons a week against a capacity of 180,000 tons. The combined furnace and merchant interests, capable of producing at least 450,000 tons weekly, are turning out only 375,000 tons. There is a demand for the total production and the owners would be run to their fullest capacity if 5,000 additional men could be found for that purpose. This lack of labor means a loss to the Connelville coke trade of three quarters of a million dollars' worth of business monthly and to the region of half an much in wages.

It is estimated that there is work for 5,000 additional miners in the Pittsburgh coal trade alone. They earn from $2.50 to $3 per day. By working a longer day than eight hours, they can make $5 or $6 per day. They can make better wages than the average salaried clerk. Yet a full complement of men cannot be had. The same complaint comes from the mills and furnaces, the factories and the farms, the railroad and contracting interests.

There are just as many men in the country as ever and perhaps more. The labor supply has not contracted. In spite of elaborate explanations of foreigners detained abroad by wars and legislation and superior labor in traction, and of immigration being diverted from America to South America and other countries where labor demand is said to be active, the trouble is not there. LABOR IS SCARCE IN THIS COUNTRY CHIEFLY BECAUSE OF THE SUDEN EXPANSION OF INDUSTRY WHICH HAS MADE MORE WORK TO DO THAN THERE ARE HANDS TO DO IT.

There are two remedies for this embarrassing situation. The first lies in systematic efforts to enlist the attention of foreign labor little of which is as well paid and cared for at home as it is in this country where wages and working conditions are ever on the uplift.

The second remedy is more drastic and will undoubtedly prove more effective: not every intelligent citizen, whether he be employer or employee, capitalist or farmer, should hesitate to apply. It compels in the election of a Democratic President and Congress, the elimination of the Republican Protective policy and its replacement by the Democratic Tariff-for-Revenue-only.

Democratic Free Trade and other Democratic business policies, financial and otherwise, or even the threat of them, will unquestionably operate to stifle the industrial boom now rushing to nation-wide prosperity and change the scarcity of labor at high wages into a great abundance of labor at low wages. THE JOBS WILL NO LONGER PURSUE THE WORKMEN; THE WORKMEN WILL VAINLY HUNT THE JOBS.

This is not an idle dream or a political threat. It is the LESSON OF EXPERIENCE. It is written in the pages of the country's history. The people were afflicted with the same Political Curse in 1892. They turned the Republicans out and put the Democrats in. They repudiated the Protective policy and embraced Tariff-for-Revenue-only.

What was the result? BANKRUPTCY JOSTLED BUSINESS AND PARALYSIS OVERCAME INDUSTRY; PANIC RUINED FINANCE AND STARVATION STARED THREE MILLIONS OF IDLE MEN IN THE FACE; CHILDREN CHIED AND WOMEN DESPAIRED; MISERY MOCKED AND ANARCHY LEERED; ALL THAT THE PEOPLE MIGHT HAVE A CHANGE AND DEMOCRATIC POLITICIANS MIGHT IN THE SACRED NAME OF REFORM RETURN TO PLACE AND POWER AND PLUNDER.

It is a wild year in politics, and many men seem willing to repeat the experiment of 1892. To them we say in all solemnity, LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP!

COAL AND RAILROAD RUMORS.

The announcement that mysterious capitalist interests are gathering together a coal field of 25,000 acres in the extreme northern end of the Upper Connelville region, in the Ligonier, Indiana and Cambria districts and adjoining the coal fields of the Cambria Steel Company, is made doubly interesting by an apparently semi-authoritative statement that the Western Maryland railroad would be extended into this coal field, there to connect with the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad, which if not an actual subsidiary line of the New York Central system, sustains a relation to it which is identical with that sustained by the Western Maryland at Connelville. The proposed new railroad construction would not only develop valuable traffic-producing territory, but it would also establish another loop in the Western Maryland's combination with the New York Central.

Locally the story is interesting because it involves the Indian Creek Valley railroad and incidentally the early development of the Indian Creek Valley coal. It is well known that it is the policy of the Western Maryland to secure all the tidewater coal traffic it can for its Connelville line, and this fact lends color to the unconfirmed story concerning its probable extension, since that extension would or could tap the active coal developments of Western Somerset county and the Ligonier valley in addition to the bit coal tract which is its objective point.

The ownership and the object of the latter development, however, remain a mystery; and until its actual purchase and the authoritative announcement of its purpose and proprieties, the whole story, though apparently having foundation in fact, must be regarded with speculative interest. In this connection, it is possible that the new management of the Cambria Steel Company may think it desirable to enlarge their coal holdings in view of the possible development of steel combination with Charles M. Schwab and others. It is known that the latter is a near-convert to by-product as a furnace fuel, and the coal in the locally covered by the proposed 25,000-acre field would perhaps make a good by-product coke since it makes a fair beehive oven coke especially if the coal is washed.

The best looking coal remaining in Western Pennsylvania is that of Eastern Greene county the development of which is just beginning, but the Westernland coal field is cheaper in price if lower in coking value, and its location may be regarded as advantageous to the consuming interests.

T. Roosevelt is billed to speak in Connelville, but up to date we do not hear that Jesse Hook Wagon has been invited to introduce the speaker. However, the Colonel might go on to Dunbar and make a speech while the reconstructed Rockwater representative was introducing him. T. R. is just like Lincoln. He likes to defer to other speakers.

The natural gas man is getting ready for his business.

The weather man tried to freeze the hand report out but the liquid notes deduced the temperature. Cool weather can't compete with a hot tune.

The mother is being notified to vacate father's overcoat.

The two surviving members of the Poor Board of Fayette county are able to agree upon everything save the location of a successor to the vacancy in the board. There is nothing in the situation thus far to which the taxpayers can take exception. The surviving members may be stubborn, but they are likewise economical.

The Connelville township road supervisors very properly refuse to further lease their roadmaking machinery to other townships or to contractors working therein. The roadmaking machinery was bought to use not to rent, and from all accounts Connelville township needs its machinery about as badly as any township in the county.

The McCune-Howell Company has been reorganized and the vacuum taken out of its capitalization.

The Cold Wave threatens the Pleasant Sucks.

Dunbar has a Water street. For some years it was counted a misnomer but it is now admitted that the street probably was a reason for the name.

There is plenty of game and plenty of game law. If sportsmen and others would have the same continuing plenty, they must be game enough to give liberal aid to the enforcement of the laws protecting it.

If this weather keeps up, Dunbar people will run every time it rains.

The Thermometer fell into the ten chest last night, and there is a suspicion that it was shoved in by the Ghost and Plumbing Umbrella.

West Penn trolley expansion echoes from every point of the compass, and judging from the increased and increasing electrical energy of the company there is something very substantial behind the echoes.

The furnace is back from its summer vacation.

The ousted Pleasant View pastor took half of his congregation and his telephone along. His enemies couldn't ring him off.

Changes in railroad management are usually made and then talked about.

One of the Washington City carrier plumes liberated at Connelville a few days ago returned. It probably heard that Pennsylvania was the headquarters of the Washington party and thought it proper to remain at headquarters.

Sand Patch is reported to be on the slide; if so, its movement is Progressive like that of the Bull Moose herd.

OFF TO COLLEGE

By Isaac of Yukon.

Our young men and women have packed their bags, shouldered off all their money and are now off to college.

Our young people are going to educate themselves for conditions in the coal future. There is no use to study foreign languages as all foreign countries have pinned their faith on English. As for the sciences, poetry and music, they have become useless and disgusting so that a young Grad is called a Mutt who has completed either.

Miss Fatima Smythe has gone to the Dunbar College of Hatmaking.

PITY THE TURK.

She says that in six months she can complete the course to enable her to take material that will cost 63 cents and make a hat that will sell on sight for $15.75. That's going some. David Allen Solomon has gone to Niagara College of Suspender Salesmanship. He will be absent until January 1, 1913, at which time he will conduct a suspender bureau here and oversee about 35 young Syrian peddlers. He will make $350 per month clear.

Miss Corduroy Jones has gone to the Dressmakers' Technical Institute at Bellefonte, where she is learning to make light skirts and low-cut shirt waists. She says by the latest rules she can make a skirt out of a pair of man's overalls which will have the "net" and stay to the place intended.

George Agnoscio Ambler has gone to the College of Shoeshinistry at Mt. Pleasant where he will not only learn all the tricks in polishing shoes and whitewashing hats, but he will learn real estate so fast as it is used in realigning hallways and "hang-on" rooms.

Miss Mordaka Ivanoski Iterwich has left home and is now busy learning the art of justing court rooms at the College of Gentle Swipes, at Uniontown. When she returns she will be able to command $95 per month for a 3-hour day.

Mike Angelo Aquanegra is at the College of High School Facilitating, at Connelville. Mike says when he returns he expects to get elected to a 5-year term of janitorial at $155 per month and room rent beside the college. He says the profession is on the level with law, medicine and the drug habit.

Bill O'Connor, Philo Matheson and Tzy Smith are at the Bartenders' Technical College at Scotland studying the dynamic force of modern high balls and cocktails. They will be $175 per month men when they return.

Truly, education pays.

Abe Martin.

This is going to be a great campaign for fellows that ain't got nothin' to lose. Miss Fawn Lippincott says she's got enough things to worry her without 'ceasin' white shoes.

THE MINSTRELS DREW BIG CROWD IN SCOTSDALE

People Here Enjoyed Entertainment to be at Soisson Theatre Today.

HOUSE BEING GREATLY IMPROVED

Young People Have Corn Roast at Walnut Hill—Long Railing on Monday—New Postoffice Reports for 10 Scottdale Publications, Other Notes.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, Sept. 25.—The appearance of John W. Vore's Big City Minstrels, which appear at the Soisson Theatre, Connelville today, drew a house that was filled to standing room and gave the people the first sight of something of what the Scottdale theatre under its new ownership here will look like. The new curtains were used, and the stage work for the front of the house is sufficiently far along in course of planning as to indicate that the house will be one of the handiest to be seen in this section. The four boxes, an innovation to the house, are rapidly being completed and two of them were occupied. The show was the best that this minstrel troupe has brought to Scottdale, and the entire surroundings were rich and attractive. The musical numbers were well applauded and several novelties were greatly enjoyed by the audience, as well as the entire entertainment judging from the generous applause. Max Glous, Harry, "the frolicsome frog" have an exhibition of leading that has never been equaled on this stage, while his trick of getting inside of a small box was almost unbelievable, had one not seen him in his earlier cartoon acts. HAD A CORN ROAST.

A big crowd of young people, with about half a dozen chaperons went a mile and a half over to Walnut Hill last evening for a corn roast. There were five fires built earlier in the evening and each crowd had its own fire and chaperons. Bushels of corn, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes and such stuff were used, and the food was freely given even to the appetite while the fires were comfortable as well as tastefully useful.

PLANS GOING UP.
It is expected that the two large stores purchased by the School Board will be flung to the breeze at the fifth School and Pittsburg street school buildings on Monday. It being thought that the 62-foot iron poles have become gold enough in the concrete bases that were built for them. There has been some agitation to have ceremonies in connection with the flag raising. It being thought by some that such an occasion would be a good one for impressing on the minds of the school children the beauty and meaning of the flag. Thus far nothing seems to have been done along the line of a program.

PAPERS SERVED.
Postmaster B. C. Frelts delivered at the newspaper offices of town the new local report recently made obligatory.

The housewives of Connelville are the most intelligent found anywhere—that's why they refuse to pay more for other brands, when they can buy at moderate cost.

DAVIS BAKING POWDER

the purest and most wholesome Baking Powder made.
Sold by all good Grocers. Insist on having it.

upon newspaper publishers to compel them to publish a report as to their ownership, editors, managers, the stockholders owning more than one percent of the stock and whoever owns any mortgages, notes or other evidence of indebtedness against the paper, and also advising all publishers that any affidavits or other leading matter for which money or other valuable consideration is received or promised must be the "old advertisement." This law, which amounts to a censorship over publications was recently enacted and compels the filing of the reports with the postmaster and makes a heavy penalty for disregarding the provisions of the law. There must be 11 of these reports made for Scottdale, the Monroeville Publishing House having 17 publications going through the mails, but exempt from the provisions of the law. It is interesting to note that the law is passing why they are exempt.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.
Some of the estate transfers of interest in Scottdale have been recorded at Connelville as follows: John Alko land in East Huntingdon township to Ed Pysak, for $310, September 17, 1912; W. H. Neel land in East Huntingdon township to S. Bonnell for $350, September 3, 1912, and W. W. Shaw lot in East Huntingdon township to J. O. Peterson for $1,800, September 18, 1912.

MUSICIAN PLANNED.
A musical entertainment has been planned under the auspices of Miss Anna Sisley's Sunday school class at the First Presbyterian Church, on Friday evening, October 4. A pleasing program has been arranged.

SPELLING BEE.
An old fashioned spelling bee has been arranged for at the First Methodist Episcopal Church on Friday evening, October 4, to which everyone is invited.

IS OUT AGAIN.
Thomas N. Brownfield, editor of The Review, is able to be on the street after a couple of weeks of serious illness from a poisoning, which he brought with him from a trip to the city and had him in a critical condition for several days.

TO COLLEGE.
Among young people to leave for higher institutions of learning within the last few days were: Miss Phoebe Sherrick to Philadelphia, where she is in the Drexel Institute Albert Kelsch, a member of the year's high school class graduating class to Oberlin, Ohio, and Miss Edith Lenz to the same college, where she is in her third year.

FINE FRUIT.
George Polak, a former resident and now of Creston, Ohio with Thurm and Sons, who have been spending several months at Creston, is here with a car load of big apples and potatoes. These are large and perfect and show the value of spraying, which is made compulsory by law in Ohio. Mr. Polak says that there are some who have only a few trees, or some number as small as that, do not have to spray the trees but that this will likely be included in the compulsory law, as a few trees may spread infection as badly as if they were in a big orchard.

FINE MILLINERY.

B. & O. BREAKS RECORD FOR BUSINESS DONE IN AUGUST

System's Gross Earnings, According to Report, Were $8,878,271, an Increase of $300,000.

The August statement of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad shows gross earnings of $8,878,271, an increase of $300,000 over the corresponding month of 1911, and more than $300,000 above the highest previous monthly achievement. An increase of $373,778 in transportation expenses, and an increase of $215,802 in expenditures on maintenance of way and structures and on equipment, practically offsets this large increase in revenues, the net gain being reduced to $69,051. The total net for the month was $2,307,251.

The cost of the new tunnel at Sand Patch will be $1,500,000. Its completion will bring to a successful finish the elaborate campaign of improvement, betterment and reconstruction ordered upon by Daniel Willard, soon after taking the presidency of the system nearly three years ago. During that time approximately $70,000,000 has been expended on the property to put it in first class shape.

SMART TAILORED COAT. Especially designed to give the slender hip effect, this coat was made large in the upper part. The armholes extend nearly to the waist line, but the sleeves themselves taper to a rather close wrist. The joining line of the skirt and upper part is just above the hip, and three very large buttons close the garment snugly. A heavyweight gray material, showing fancy stripes on a smooth surface, was used, and careful tailoring was a feature of the garment.

UGH! HOW CHILDREN HATE CASTOR OIL

Delicious "Syrup of Figs" Best to Cleanse Their Little Clogged Bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. The day of harsh physic is over. We don't force the liver and 30 feet of bowels now; we coax them. We have no dreaded after-effects. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their little stomachs and tender bowels are injured by them.

If your children is irritable, peevish, half sick, stomach sour, breath feverish and its little system full of cold, has diarrhoea, more throat, stomachache; doesn't eat or rest well—remember—look at the tongue, if coated, red, gives a transparent of Syrup of Figs, then don't worry, because you surely will have a well-slimming child in a few hours.

Syrup of Figs being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics simply cannot be harmful. It sweetens the stomach, makes the liver active and thoroughly cleanses the little ones' wasted clogged bowels. In a few hours all sour bile, undigested fermenting food and constipated waste matter gently moves on and out of the system without griping or nausea.

Directions for children of all ages, also for grown-ups, plainly printed on the package.

By all means get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna" prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. Accept nothing else.

The Women's Candidate

BYRON WILLIAMS

"You are waiting your time trying to daily me," replied the girl, with a tremor in her voice. "I am perfectly harmless and I have told you all I know. The man has gone up the beach."

"Aw, come on, Ed," broke in a slender young fellow, turning his back to the girl. "What the use of arguing with the girl? She ain't the one we had yesterday."

Without a word the sheriff veered around the boat and, following the fast fading trail, set out in haste at her Bedlight. Fifteen minutes later the mayor came up from the opposite direction.

"I am sorry, Miss Brooks," he said, sorrowfully, "but I'm afraid you'll get wet after all. We've got to get away from here! I climbed around and found the boat these fellows left. I set it adrift with a gale blowing it across the lake, but they are not far behind. We must get under way as soon as possible."

"I don't mind a soaking," replied the young woman, bravely. "It's the lightning that frightens me—and that's about quit."

The man nudged the dory hurriedly, piled in their belongings and set the boat from the shore with a sturdy shove. A half mile below, on the beach he caught sight of three men running toward them—and far away on the wave-battered lake, a tiny dot of brown could be seen rising and falling as it scudded before the wind. It was the sheriff's row boat.

"Sleeping out of doors," said the mayor, smiling at the woman opposite, "is very beneficial to the lungs—especially on an island."

CHAPTER VIII.

When the waves are running freely it is a still pull from Miss Host's select little hotel in the Wisconsin woods to Glen Island, but on a perfect moonlight night, with just breeze sufficient to ripple the fair hair of a pretty girl opposite, the man at the oars seldom finds the task arduous.

Nor did Mayor Bedlight complain. The running ripple slapped the prow of the boat rhythmically and from the shadows along the approaching shore of the island the weird hoot of an owl proclaimed the witchery of the night.

With a scarcely perceptible tilt the boat grounded on the shelving sandy shore. Bedlight sprang out and pulled the craft further upon its cushioned anchorage. The girl sat in the boat, intently watching the mayor. That gentleman took from the locker a basket well laden. Quickly gathering some dry wood, he stacked it over a bunch of clender-like weeds, touched a match to the pile, not the basket at a safe distance, and pulling a revolver from his pocket, fired in the general direction of the moon.

Having maneuvered thus peculiarly, he hastened back to the boat, shoved off and rowed from the shore a hundred yards. Reeling on his oars, he let the boat toss idly upon the lake. Five, ten minutes passed. The dry wood burned brightly, making a beacon of light, into the circle of which there came, at last, three shadows, followed by unintelligible conversation.

"They've found it," said the mayor, picking up his oars and turning the boat toward the hotel.

It was midnight when the sides of the craft rubbed its sister boats at Miss Host's dock. The mayor and the girl crept softly up the winding pathway toward the hotel. Suddenly, in the moonlight ahead, the form of a woman appeared advancing to meet them. The mayor and the girl saw her simultaneously. He stopped instantly with a restraining hand upon the girl's arm.

"Quick!" he commanded, springing in front of his companion and turning her about face. "Walk rapidly down the path to the boathouse."

She complied instantly.

Over his shoulder the mayor saw the woman hesitate, then follow determinedly through the shimmering moonlight.

"Go into the boathouse," directed Bedlight hurriedly. "Wait until I engage her in conversation. Then open the rear door and run for the hotel. And be quiet!"

"I understand," whispered the girl, excitedly.

Slipping through the door, she closed it softly. Pulling a cigar from his pocket, the mayor scratched a match on the sole of his shoe and blew a puff of smoke at the same target which earlier in the evening he had failed to hit with his leaden missile.

The woman rounded the corner and came directly toward him.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Bedlight," said "Judge" Vining in a cold, formal voice, "for following you, but as champion of the young ladies at the hotel I feel that it was my duty to do so."

"Do not attempt to evade," she snarled. "I am deeply in earnest. Where is she—the—?" She seemed at a loss to proceed. Finally she threw diplomacy to the winds. "Who was the girl with you—alone—at this hour of the night?"

"The last I saw of her she went through that door," he replied, doggedly.

Miss Vining stepped toward the door and opened it. In the farther end of the boathouse a second door stood open and through it the moonlight streamed.

"I see I have been outwitted," angrily.

"May I walk to the hotel with you?" asked the mayor humbly.

"I prefer to go alone," she replied in a tone of finality, starting up the path.

"Miss Vining!"

It was the mayor calling from the dock.

She stopped.

"What is it, Mr. Bedlight?" impatiently.

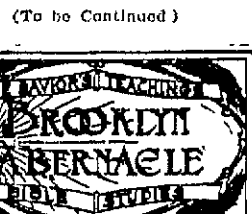

"You remember saying the girl with me must be one of your party because there were no other young ladies about?"

"Yes," crisply.

The mayor's voice had something of the old ring in it as he asked.

"Did you think of the colored cook?"

But the "Judge" going up the path briskly, did not deign to reply.

TEACHING BY PARABLES ONLY.

Matthew xiii, 34, 35—Sept. 29.

"The words that I speak, and the things that I do, are signs and they are life"—John vi, 54.

BIBLE students and Bible scholars have generally expressed surprise that the Great Teacher spoke always to the people in symbolic language, "dark sayings," the meaning of which they rarely understood. Another Scripture informs us that the reason was that the invitation was not intended for the multitudes, but merely for the chosen.

Those who accepted the Lord as the Savior, and took upon themselves the required vow of faithfulness in walking in His footsteps unto death, were granted special enlightenment.

"To you it is given to know the mystery of the Kingdom of Heaven," but to outsiders these things are spoken in parables, that they might not see and understand.

The entire matter is clarified when we recognize the difference between the salvation of the world to the human nature, during Messiah's reign of a thousand years, and the salvation provided for the Elect during this Age.

The Apostles Jesus' Mouthpieces.

It has been claimed that the doctrines of Christianity can be better gleaned from the writings of the Apostles than from the sayings of Jesus.

There is considerable truth in this claim, and the reason is manifest: Jesus' words were addressed mainly to the multitudes, and when He addressed the disciples He could not discuss even with them deep, spiritual truths, because they had not been begotten of the Holy Spirit, and therefore could not understand spiritual things. Jesus declared, "I have many things to tell you, but ye cannot bear them now."

"After Ye Were Illuminated."

St. Paul gives the key in one of his Epistles, saying, "After ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions." (Hebrews x, 32) The illumination received was the begetting of the Holy Spirit—1 Cor. ii, 12.

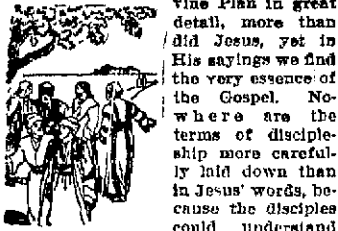

This has been true of all the members of the Body of Christ throughout this Age. Each one presenting his body a living sacrifice has been accepted by the great Advocate, and presented as a part of His own Offering; then the offerer has been begotten of the Holy Spirit to be a New Creature in Christ.

It is to these New Creatures that the statement is made, "All things are yours, for ye are Christ's, and Christ is God's." To these the Bible has promised, "To will show you things to come." There are to be guided into all Truth as it becomes due. For these the Word of God is a Storehouse, from which "things both new and old" are produced under the Spirit's guidance, as they become "meet in due season."

Even these must make progress in their appreciation of spiritual things. The Apostle urges such: "As new born babes desire the sincere milk of the Word, that ye might grow thereby."

Now our text "The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life." Here our Lord endeavored to impress His dear disciples with the thought that they should not take His words too literally, but look for the deeper meaning. And, they were to remember that they could not get that deep meaning until after the Master's ascension, as He said, "It is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away the Holy Spirit will not come unto you; but if I go away I will send Him unto you."

The Master's words were "words of life" in that they conveyed the great Message of the terms upon which we may have everlasting life and become His joint-heirs. Although the Apostles explain the philosophy of the Bible Plan in great detail, more than did Jesus, yet in His sayings we find the very essence of the Gospel. Nowhere else do we more clearly get the statement that the Father bath life in Himself, and hath granted unto the Son life in Himself, and that He might share this life with His disciples. Thus, as St. Paul says, the words of this salvation began to be spoken by our Lord. He brought life and immortality to light, both the general reward of everlasting life to be given to the world, and the special reward to be granted to the Church.

"This is a hard saying."

ing, and walking in His steps, even if they could not understand the philosophy of justification, sanctification, and election and Divine foreknowledge.

From Jesus' words more clearly than from any others we get the thought of the "water of life," and how it is now in His followers' "quipping" of truth, grace and everlasting life. Nowhere else do we more clearly get the statement that the Father bath life in Himself, and hath granted unto the Son life in Himself, and that He might share this life with His disciples. Thus, as St. Paul says, the words of this salvation began to be spoken by our Lord. He brought life and immortality to light, both the general reward of everlasting life to be given to the world, and the special reward to be granted to the Church.

The flag that Washington had with him when he crossed the Delaware to attack Trenton was not the "stars and stripes." Washington crossed the Delaware in December, 1776, and the stars and stripes did not have an existence until the June of 1777, when it was voted into being by the congress.

The flag that waved over General Washington on his way to and from Trenton consisted of thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, as at present, with a blue canton emblazoned with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, as in the British flag. The first time the present stars and stripes were flown to the breeze was on the day of the battle of Oriskany at Fort Stanwix, Aug. 6, 1777.

An Architect's Ruin.

A story is told of Sir Christopher Wren, the great English architect who built the town hall of Windsor, England. It appears that a jidgy member of the corporation insisted that the roof required further support and wished more pillars to be added. Valiantly did Sir Christopher assure him that the supposed danger was imaginary. The alarm became infectious, and the great architect was finally worried into adding the desired columns. Years rolled on, and in later times, when architect and patrons had passed away, clearing operations on the roof revealed the fact that the supposed additional supports did not touch the roof by a couple of inches, though this was imperceptible to the gazers below. By this curious expedient did Sir Christopher pacify his critics while vindicating his own architectural skill to future generations.

TRANSOCEAN FLIGHT TROPHY.

Pioneer American Suffragette Office. Hearloom to the Aviator.

Mrs. Woodhull Martin of London, formerly Victoria Woodhull, one of the pioneer women suffragettes of America and now the widow of John Biddulph Martin, the banker, has offered through the Women's Aerial League a superb antique centerpiece to the first aviator who crosses the ocean to America.

The trophy is one of the art treasures of Mrs. Martin's beautiful old home at Norton's Park, Worcestershire. The Norton Park homestead has been in the Martin family for 300 years and is filled with art treasures, antiques and curios from all parts of the world.

STOPS PAIN IN THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS AND BACK.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say good bye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine, the stinging and pains in the back, the growing muscle weakness, spots before the eyes, yellow skin, sluggish bowels, swollen eyelids or ankles, leg cramps, unnatural short breath, sleeplessness and then dependency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Robinson, 15-47 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

COULD NOT PUT HANDS IN WATER

Red, Scaly Spots. Itched and Burned. When Scratched, Formed Into Sores. Spread Constantly. Unsightly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Three Months.

572 Walnut St., Columbia, Pa.—"Early in the spring of last year I noticed small red scaly spots appearing on the palm of my left hand and on several fingers of my right hand. They itched and burned and when scratched or irritated in any way they formed into sores. The spots spread constantly and in a short time both hands were affected causing them to be very unsightly. After a time they became so raw that I could not even put them in water. It was pronounced eczema.

I tried various remedies but with no relief. After three months' trial of these remedies, I noticed the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and decided to try them. Every night before retiring I washed my hands with Cuticura Soap and warm water and applied a thin coat of Cuticura Ointment. I kept on with the treatment. In three months I was completely cured of my trouble." (Signed) Miss M. Katharine Carter, Apr. 20, 1912.

If you wish a skin clear of pimples, blackheads and other annoying eruptions, hands soft and white, hair lustrous and itching, scalp free from dandruff and itching, begin to-day the regular use of Cuticura Soap for the toilet, bath and shampoo, assisted by an occasional light application of Cuticura Ointment. Meyersdale.

MEYERSDALE, Sept. 23.—Yesterday was the biggest and most enjoyable of the Old Home Week celebration in Meyersdale. The weather, though cool, was pleasant, and the attendance was large. At 10 o'clock the farmers' parade was held and this afternoon the fire department, including the running team, with the Salisbury and Meyersdale bands and a drum corps, made a very creditable appearance in line. Several races were pulled off at the fair grounds but the track was heavy and the races were consequently not very interesting. There will be racing this afternoon when it is expected that the track will be in better shape.

William Bruncher of near Casselman, was in town calling on friends yesterday and today.

Jacob Gintelly of Grantsville, Md., was an Old Home Week visitor, yesterday.
